

Eden by Design: The 1930 Olmsted-Bartholomew Plan for the Los Angeles Region | William Francis Deverell | 9780520224155 | 2000 | 314 pages | University of California Press, 2000

Eden by Design book. Read reviews from world's largest community for readers. In 1930 the Olmsted Brothers and Harland Bartholomew & Associates submitted... In 1930 the Olmsted Brothers and Harland Bartholomew & Associates submitted a report, "Parks, Playgrounds, and Beaches for the Los Angeles Region," to the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce. After a day or two of coverage in the newspapers, the report dropped from sight. The plan set out a system of parks and parkways, children's playgrounds, and public beaches. It is a model In 1930 the Olmsted Brothers and Harland Bartholomew & Associates submitted a report, "Parks, Playgrounds, and Beaches for the Los Angeles Region," to the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce. Greg Hise, William Deverell. Eden by Design: The 1930 Olmsted-Bartholomew Plan for the Los Angeles Region. Berkeley: University of California Press, 2000. ix + 314 pp. $48.00 (cloth), ISBN 978-0-520-22414-8. Reviewed by Lee Simpson (Department of History, St. Cloud State University) Published on H-California (December, 2000). Since the audience for this book is primarily urban planners and the stated purpose is to encourage these planners to engage in such visionary planning, this reminder is worthy. Although the emphasis of the authors lies in promoting future regional planning efforts, the analysis of the report provides historians with much food for thought. The 1930 Olmsted-Bartholomew Plan for the Los Angeles Region Greg Hise William Dever April 2002 Southern California quarterly. Don Parson. Book Review: Roads to Regionalism: Genesis, Design, and Effects of Regional Organizations. By Tanja A. Bärzel, Lukas Goltermann, Mathis Lohaus and Kai Striebing (Eds.). Burlington, UK: Ashgate, 2012, 294 pp.; ISBN: 978-1-4094-3464-1. View full-text. Article. Book Review: Design of Regional Accounts. January 1963 Journal of Political Economy. Larry A. Sjaastad.