

Sand and Water: Desert and Seascape Scenes; 100 pages; 2014; Marquis Publishing, 2014; Marques Vickers

Create a beachy scene this summer using sand and glue! This landscape-inspired art activity is a great accompaniment to a special summer vacation or even just a trip to the beach one day. Use sand from a fun beach trip or buy colored craft sand at an art supply store to create a seascape that brings the beach into your home. Sprinkle sand over the glue in sections. Encourage your child to try different colors for different parts. For example, use a blue and green sand mixture for the water, a yellow and orange mix for the beach, and a light blue for the sky. Create an outer space painting with chalk, water and black paper in this art project that explores the solar system. 2nd grade. Arts & crafts. Introduction. THE NATURE OF THE PROBLEM THIS book results from an attempt to explain on a basis of experimental physics some of the many strange phenomena produced by the natural movement of sand over the dry land of the Earth. The subject is but one aspect of a far wider problem which is still very imperfectly grasped-the transport of solid particles of any kind by fluids in general. Parts of the Sahara desert were coated in a blanket of snow as Ain Sefra was gripped by freezing conditions on January 17. Karim Bouchetatal filmed as he explored the snow-coated sand dunes during temperatures of -3 degrees Celsius. According to reports, it was only the fourth time in 42 years that Ain Sefra has seen snow. This is a modal window. Beginning of dialog window. Escape will cancel and close the window.
